

The diagram illustrates a three-layer application architecture. It consists of three stacked rectangular boxes: a yellow box at the top labeled 'UI', a green box in the middle labeled 'Business Logic', and a blue box at the bottom labeled 'Data Access Layer'. These three layers are enclosed within a dashed black rectangular border. Below this border, a black arrow points downwards from the center of the 'Data Access Layer' box to a light gray cylinder representing a database.

UI

Business Logic

Data Access Layer

